Outline of program: School of commerce and management studies, Sandip University had organized a program on the topic of 'Opportunities for Management Students in Manufacturing Industries' on 20th Sept, 2019. The program was conducted by Speaker Mr. Avinash Bhor Human resource manager of Dhumal Group.

Output of the program: Industrial visit was very successful. Students learned the manufacturing process that is operational in Dhumal industries. Inputs on various production chain operation followed by production manager and engineers were made to understand to the students. Student also learned the process of total quality management, six sigma in production process, and inventory management under same industry. Students visited at 'Demo shed' of Dhumal Industries. The students were inquisitive about the company's marketing strategies for their product, how the company maintains privacy from customers and investors, which was resolved in the question answer session. Student received fruitful information about production manager functions, duties, responsibilities. It helped students to comprehend the nitty gritty of supervisor and labor relationship, how to do effectively work and reduce wastage and have optimal utilization of resources to improve production.
