2. LADY SECURITY GUARDS & VIGILANCE OFFICERS (BOTH LADIES & GENTS)

The university prioritizes the safety and security of its students, staff, and faculty, ensuring a secure environment with 24/7 security services and CCTV surveillance. Both male and female security personnel are stationed at key locations across the campus, and all individuals entering the campus, including visitors, are strictly monitored through identity verification, visitor passes, and vehicle checks. These security measures help create a safe, protected space for students and faculty, allowing women to feel secure and focus on their academic pursuits

The Security Officers operate 24/7 within the campus. The university's security is managed by a team to work on shifts around the clock to ensure continuous coverage for 24 hours. All students and faculty are required to wear ID cards and adhere to a dress code. In case of any incidents, student ID cards are used for quick identification and follow-up. Specifically near the girls' hostel, two lady security guards are stationed solely for security purposes.

To accommodate the diverse needs of its female students, Sandip University provides separate hostels for women, monitored by female caretakers. This ensures not only their security but also offers a sense of comfort and community for students living far from home. Additionally, women faculty members residing on campus are given priority in the allocation of residential facilities, further contributing to a balanced and supportive atmosphere for women in the academic and professional spheres. The university also provides gender-specific common rooms on every floor, offering female students a private space for leisure and relaxation. Furthermore, sanitary napkin dispensers are installed in all women's washrooms to ensure the availability of essential hygiene products, reflecting the university's commitment to promoting women's health and well-being.
