Brief description of Event:

The NSS Blanket Distribution Drive was organized by the Department of Computer Science & Application, School of Computer Sciences & Engineering, Sandip University, Nashik, at Pimpalgaon Khamb, Nashik, as a social outreach initiative aimed at supporting needy and underprivileged members of the local community. The activity provided students and volunteers with an opportunity to actively participate in community service and contribute towards the welfare of people in need.

The drive encouraged students to engage with the local community and understand the importance of social responsibility and humanitarian service. Blankets were distributed to needy individuals as a gesture of care, compassion, and support.

The activity also promoted important values such as kindness, empathy, teamwork, social responsibility, and community service. The enthusiastic participation of students, faculty coordinators, and teaching and non-teaching faculty members contributed to the successful completion of the initiative.

Objective of the Event:

The NSS Blanket Distribution Drive was organized with the objective of promoting social responsibility, compassion, empathy, and community service among students. The activity aimed to provide essential support to needy and underprivileged members of the local community while creating awareness among students about their responsibilities towards society. It also provided students with an opportunity to interact with the community, understand social needs, develop a spirit of volunteerism, and contribute positively towards the welfare of society through collective efforts.

Outcome of the Event:

The NSS Blanket Distribution Drive was successfully conducted with enthusiastic participation from students and faculty members. The activity provided meaningful support to needy members of the local community and helped students understand the importance of compassion, empathy, and social responsibility. Students developed a stronger sense of community service, teamwork, and volunteerism through their active involvement. Overall, the initiative contributed to the welfare of the community and encouraged students to participate in socially responsible activities and humanitarian initiatives.
