About the activity :

Background

Academic research and quality publications are essential for institutional growth and scholarly excellence. To guide researchers from idea generation to high-impact publication, a Research Paper Writing Workshop was organized by the School of Computer Science & Engineering, Sandip University.

The workshop aimed to train participants in selecting impactful research topics, structuring SCI/SCOPUS papers, writing effective abstracts and methodologies, understanding research ethics, selecting appropriate journals, and responding to reviewer comments professionally.

Conclusion

The workshop successfully enhanced participants' understanding of the complete research publication process, from conceptualization to journal submission and revision.

Remarks

Under the coordination of Dr. Anand Singh Rajawat, the session proved highly informative and practical, benefiting Ph.D. scholars, faculty members, and students in strengthening their research and publication skills.
