8. Event Outline, Objective & Outcome of the event:

Outline:

The International Women's Day celebration began with a welcome address highlighting the importance of recognizing women's contributions to society. This was followed by an inspirational talk by an eminent speaker who shared valuable insights and experiences on women's empowerment, leadership, and personal growth. The event also included the felicitation of women achievers in recognition of their outstanding contributions in their respective fields. Students actively participated in cultural activities such as dance, songs, poetry, and skits that reflected the theme of women empowerment and equality. The program concluded with a vote of thanks expressing gratitude to the guest speaker, honorees, organizers, and participants for making the event meaningful and successful.

Objective:

- To celebrate and recognize the achievements and contributions of women in various fields.
- To inspire students and faculty through motivational and inspirational talks by accomplished women.
- To promote gender equality, empowerment, and leadership among women.
- To provide a platform to honor and felicitate women achievers for their outstanding work.
- To encourage creativity, participation, and cultural expression through cultural activities.

Outcome of Event:

- Increased awareness among students and faculty about women's empowerment and gender equality.
- Motivation for students, especially girls, to pursue leadership roles and professional success.
- Recognition and appreciation of women achievers, encouraging others to strive for excellence.
- Enhanced student engagement and confidence through cultural participation.
- Strengthened institutional commitment toward promoting an inclusive and supportive environment for women.
