Brief description of Event:

The School of Law, Sandip University, Nashik organised the 3rd edition of the Crime Scene Investigation (CSI) event, a simulation-based activity in which student teams were presented with a mock crime scene and required to examine the scene, identify and collate evidence, apply forensic reasoning and present their findings and conclusions.

Participants worked in teams to observe the scene systematically, note and sketch observations, handle and document physical evidence, and link the clues to arrive at a reasoned account of the incident. The activity connected classroom learning on criminal law, the law of evidence and criminal procedure with the practical realities of investigation and the role of forensic science in the administration of justice.

Objective of the Event:

1. To give students practical exposure to crime scene examination, evidence collection and preservation.
2. To enhance understanding of the importance of forensic evidence under criminal law and the law of evidence.
3. To develop analytical thinking, observation, teamwork and reasoning skills.
4. To promote fair, evidence-based and ethical investigation practices that support the rule of law.
5. To bridge the gap between theoretical legal education and practical investigative procedure.

Outcome of the Event:

1. Students gained hands-on experience in handling a mock crime scene and appreciated the significance of preserving the integrity of evidence and the chain of custody.

2. Participants improved their observation, analytical and collaborative skills and learned to build logical, evidence-based conclusions.
3. The event strengthened awareness of the role of forensic science in ensuring fair investigation and trial.
4. The activity encouraged students to consider careers in criminal law, forensic and investigative fields.
