Event Report

Event Name: Legal Awareness Camp

Date of the Event: 17th September 2025

Duration of the Event: 11:00 AM to 1:00 P.M.

Venue: Ambai Village, Taluka: Trimbakeshwar

Name of the Event Coordinator: Mrs Rakhee Poonawalla & Ganesh Gadekar

Objective of the Program:

The objective of the program was to create legal awareness among the villagers, particularly those belonging to tribal communities. It aimed to help them understand their rights and address issues relating to land ownership, livelihood, and other socio-legal challenges they face in their daily lives. The initiative also sought to provide practical and accessible solutions for resolving their problems. Additionally, the program focused on educating the community about government welfare schemes, ensuring access to justice through legal aid services, and encouraging active participation in safeguarding their legal rights.

Outline of the Program:

The School of Law received an official communication from the District Legal Services Authority (DLSA), instructing law students to conduct a legal aid camp on below mentioned topics. The introductory and concluding sessions were handled by Ms. Diksha Bagul, while the following students presented on various themes:

1. NALSA (Protection and Enforcement of Tribal Rights) Scheme, 2015 – Mr. Siddharth Wagh and Ms. Rutuja Ghodke
2. Welfare schemes of NALSA/MSLSA in relation to tribal areas – Mr. Pushkar Sherikar, Ms. Spandini Deshmukh, and Ms. Shravani Bankar
3. Fundamental Duties of Citizens – Mr. Swapnil Pawar and Mr. Yogesh Wakhchoure
4. Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) methods and their benefits – Mr. Tejas Ahire and Ms. Payal Choubhe

Participants:

The participants included students from the First Year, Second Year, Fourth year and Fifth Year of B.A., LL.B. (Hons.) and B.B.A., LL.B. (Hons.).

Outcomes:

The camp successfully enhanced legal awareness among the villagers, especially tribal communities, about their rights and entitlements. It provided clarity on available welfare schemes, emphasized the importance of fundamental duties, and introduced practical methods of dispute resolution. The initiative empowered the villagers with knowledge to seek remedies for their grievances and encouraged them to actively safeguard their rights.

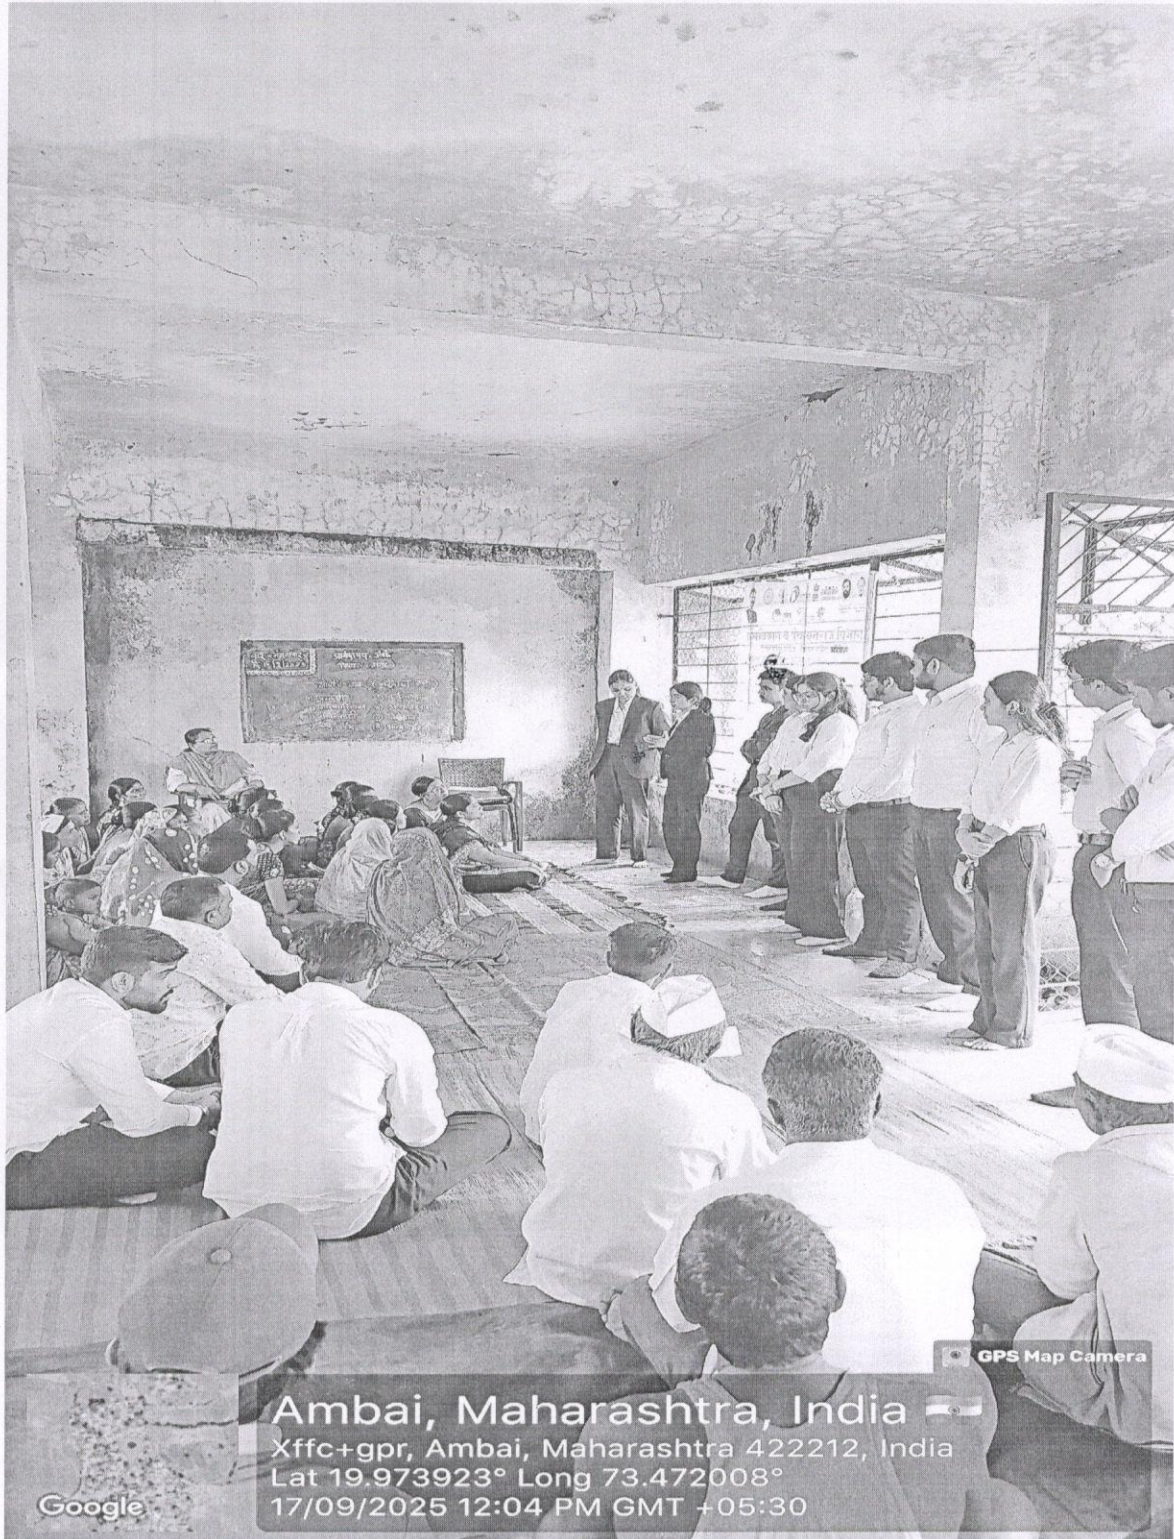

Conclusion:

The legal aid camp proved to be a meaningful initiative in bridging the gap between law and society. By engaging with the villagers, particularly those from tribal areas, the students not only spread legal awareness but also developed a sense of social responsibility and practical understanding of legal issues. The program highlighted the importance of accessible justice, community participation, and the role of legal education in empowering marginalized groups. Overall, the camp achieved its objective of guiding the villagers towards lawful remedies and strengthening their confidence in the justice system.
