AWARENESS RALLY ON ANTIMICROBIAL RESISTANCE (AMR) TO BELGAON DHAGA

Details of the Event: As part of the Pharmacy Week and World Pharmacist Day Celebration 2026, an Awareness Rally on Antimicrobial Resistance (AMR) was organized by the School of Pharmaceutical Sciences (SOPS), Sandip University, Nashik, from the School premises to Belgaon Dhaga. The rally aimed to create awareness among the local community about the growing threat of antimicrobial resistance and the importance of responsible use of antibiotics. During the rally, students and faculty members actively participated by carrying awareness, distributed informative AMR awareness leaflets to residents. and spreading important messages regarding appropriate antibiotic use, avoiding self-medication, completing prescribed antibiotic courses, and preventing the misuse and overuse of antimicrobials.

Following the rally, students conducted a door-to-door awareness campaign in the Belgaon Dhaga community and distributed informative AMR awareness leaflets to residents. The students explained the causes, consequences and preventive measures related to antimicrobial resistance and encouraged community members to use antibiotics only on the advice of qualified healthcare professionals.

An additional awareness activity was conducted at the Zilla Parishad School, Belgaon Dhaga, where students interacted with schoolchildren and created awareness about antibiotic resistance, hygiene, infection prevention and responsible medicine use. The activity promoted the message of “Awareness Today, A Healthier Tomorrow” and highlighted the role of students and the community in combating AMR
