Brief description of Event:

The School of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Sandip University, Nashik, organized a Blood Donation Camp as part of its World Pharmacists Day celebrations, in association with Lifeline Blood Bank, Nashik. The event was formally inaugurated by Dr. Abhijeet Kulkarni, Dean, School of Pharmaceutical Sciences, through a ribbon-cutting ceremony, in the presence of faculty members and student volunteers. Faculty members, staff and students enthusiastically participated as blood donors, with medical staff from Lifeline Blood Bank conducting the screening and collection process. Donors were felicitated with certificates of appreciation for their contribution.

Objective of the Event:

To sensitize students and staff about the importance of voluntary blood donation and to instil a sense of social responsibility among future pharmacists, in line with the World Pharmacists Day theme of empowering pharmacists for healthier futures, while contributing to the local blood supply to help patients in need.

Outcome of the Event:

A total of 54 units of blood were collected during the camp. The initiative received an overwhelming response from faculty, staff and students, and successfully reinforced the message of "Give Blood, Give Hope, Give Life" among the college community.
