Title: Dream | Explore | Achieve – The Power of Studying Abroad

Date: Monday, 04th August 2025

Time: 11:30 AM to 12:30 PM

Venue: School of Pharmaceutical Sciences

Organized by: International Affairs Cell

Resource Person: Mr. Shreyas Mahajan, Study Smart Overseas Education, Nashik

Event Overview:

The School of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Sandip University, under the guidance of the International Affairs Cell, organized an enlightening guest lecture titled “Dream | Explore | Achieve – The Power of Studying Abroad” on 04th August 2025. The session was aimed at motivating and guiding aspiring students towards pursuing higher education opportunities in international universities. The expert lecture focused on equipping students with vital knowledge regarding overseas education options, country selection, scholarship opportunities, visa processes, career prospects, and preparatory strategies.

Participants:

The session was attended by enthusiastic B.Pharm and M.Pharm students of the School of Pharmaceutical Sciences. A total of around 80 participants including faculty members and aspiring students showed active involvement and curiosity throughout the session.

Highlights of the Session:

Mr. Shreyas Mahajan, an experienced education consultant from Study Smart Overseas Education, Nashik, conducted the session. His talk provided valuable insights into the following areas-

- Importance of international exposure for pharmaceutical students
- Choosing the right country and university based on academic and financial background
- Application procedures and required documentation
- Standardized tests like IELTS, TOEFL, GRE, etc.

- Securing scholarships and funding opportunities
- Navigating student visa requirements
- Cultural adaptation and life abroad
- Long-term career benefits of studying abroad in the healthcare and pharmaceutical sectors

The speaker shared real-life experiences and success stories of students who successfully transitioned into global education systems, inspiring attendees to actively pursue global learning pathways.

Student Engagement & Feedback:

The students participated in a lively Q&A session at the end, posing pertinent queries related to country comparisons, budget planning, timelines for application, and job prospects after studies. The expert patiently addressed all questions and offered personalized tips. Participants appreciated the clarity of the session and shared that it helped them understand the study abroad process more confidently. They expressed interest in attending further sessions on test preparation and documentation workshops. The event contributed significantly to raising awareness among students about international opportunities and broadened their academic horizons.

Event Coordination:

The event was efficiently organized and coordinated by the Dr. Sandhya Laxmikant Borse, International Affairs Cell Coordinator, ensuring smooth conduct and effective student communication. The session reflected the University's commitment to nurturing globally competent pharmaceutical professionals.

Conclusion:

The guest lecture by Mr. Shreyas Mahajan was a commendable initiative towards promoting global education among pharmacy students. The session successfully ignited interest, resolved doubts, and paved the way for students to envision themselves on an international academic platform. It aligned with Sandip University's vision of offering holistic education and global exposure to its students.
